welcome

Welcome to your copy of our online business guide.

When we last held the Liverpool Business Fair in 2019, we never dreamt that a year later we would be having to reschedule the 2020 event due to a worldwide pandemic.

One of the main features of our events is to provide support, information and assistance to businesses, large and small. And this has probably never been so important.

And so, although we can't do anything face to face, we are replicating some of the business support features of the day, but in a digital format.

This will include using the hashtag #liverpoolbizfair from 10.30am - 3.00pm on Friday 1st May for anyone wanting to tweet any general business messages or messages of how you can help and support other businesses at this time. So if you would like to tweet any messages please make sure that you include the hashtag #liverpoolbizfair and we will retweet across our networks.

We have also produced this online Business Guide which lists companies and organisations that are offering services, support and advice, as well as some useful online resources. We hope that you find it useful. Details of our activities can be found at <https://liverpoolbizfair.co.uk/digital-day/>

Remote Working looking after your workforce

We are living in uncertain times because of Covid-19. In the short term we are going to see work practices change dramatically. People are being asked to work remotely, which brings both new opportunities and challenges.

How do we maintain team morale and motivation levels?

How do we discover the issues affecting home workers?

How do teams stay connected?

How do we ensure productivity remains high?

How do leaders work remotely and continue to develop their people? BP2W is a tried and tested solution to help improve organisational culture, leadership and engagement in your team(s). The approach operates online but is proven to a) grow team morale, b) create a sense of team connection, and c) it maintains productivity levels.

The cost is only £4 per person per month and the process can stop at any point.

“An Even Better Place to Work”

Remote Working – looking after your workforce

We are living in uncertain times because of Covid-19. In the short term we are going to see work practices change dramatically. People are being asked to work remotely, which brings both new opportunities and challenges.

- How do we maintain team morale and motivation levels?
- How do we discover the issues affecting home workers?
- How do teams stay connected?
- How do we ensure productivity remains high?

How do leaders work remotely and continue to develop their people? BP2W is a tried and tested solution to help improve organisational culture, leadership and engagement in your team(s). The approach operates online but is proven to a) grow team morale, b) create a sense of team connection, and c) it maintains productivity levels.

The cost is only £4 per person per month and the process can stop at any point.

“Futures Inspired”

Developing the Effectiveness of your Dispersed Workforce - virtually

Is adapting to the Post COVID-19 world a concern for your business?

Would a more effective and productive workforce benefit your company?

Does your company need employees who are agile and able to adapt to rapidly changing situations?

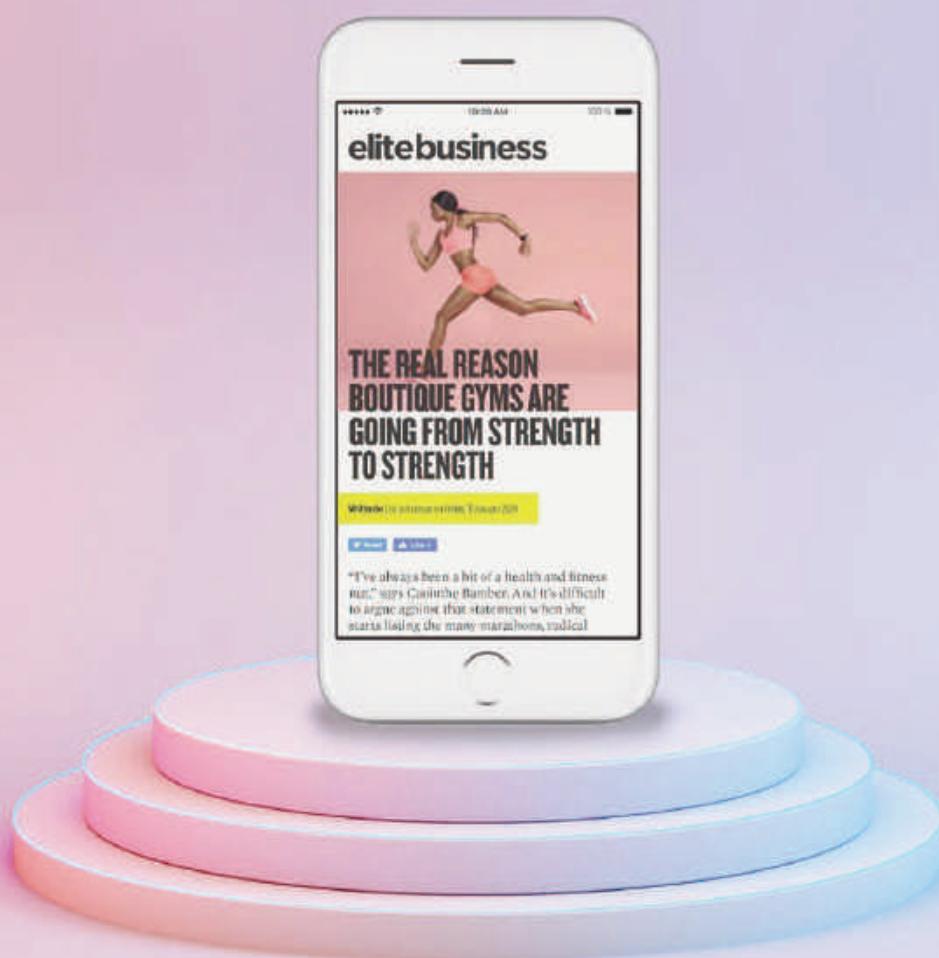

COVID-19 has dramatically changed the way we work and will continue to do so in a challenging future. We have never needed our people to be more adaptable or effective as we do now. Help them to build confidence and morale, while at the same time developing them individually and collectively to become a high performing workforce.

“Futures Inspired” is an online solution which improves the adaptability and effectiveness of your existing workforce, while helping them to improve their self-confidence and resilience, recognising their knowledge, skills, behaviours and personal qualities through a virtual development programme. We use diagnostics, group and individual online sessions with mentoring and can make a dramatic improvement in individual and team performance quickly. We can even demonstrate the return on your investment.

Tzedekk's Top 5 Tips For Working From Home

As the world moves through these unprecedented times, the workforce has been thrown into new territory too. Working from home went from being a luxury freelancers got to enjoy, to a mandatory requirement for all workforces. Having a tough time adapting? Don't worry - here at Tzedekk we've been working remotely for years, and we've got your back. Here are Tzedekk's top 5 tips for working from home, including some input from our own team!

5. Have A Designated Work Area

Having a designated work area allows you to know when it's work time, and when it's not. By having an area dedicated to work only, you'll help establish a healthy work from home lifestyle. If you can, try incorporating some natural light into your working space, or even venture outside if that's an option. And don't underestimate the value of a good chair.

From the Tzedekk team: Creating a quiet home office/work space is essential in feeling like you have a place to 'go to work'.

From the Tzedekk team: I find that having a view of nature improves work productivity.

4. Make Sure You Stay Connected

Working from home (if you're the only one there) can sometimes lead to feeling lonely and isolated from the world - yes, even for the introverts. Staying connected to your co-workers can help alleviate these feelings, and also help you boost office morale. At Tzedekk we have a Telegram chat that's both productive and lighthearted, with a healthy dose of gifs and memes to keep us in good spirits.

From the Tzedekk team: It's always a good idea to have a coworker nearby to keep you motivated.

3. Have A Schedule

Just because you're working where you live doesn't mean you need to be on call at all hours. When transitioning into WFH life, it'll really help to stick to regular office hours. Keeping a routine will help with your sanity. Make a schedule of when you'll be working - even if you're a nightowl. Try to create some form of structure with your day, and stick to it.

From the Tzedekk team: Have a daily schedule - plan out when you need to do necessary things such as taking breaks, doing exercise, eating meals and getting work done on time.

From the Tzedekk team: Set a schedule and stick to it. Having clear guidelines for when to work and when to call it off helps maintain work-life balance.

2. Take Breaks

Working solidly for 8 hours without taking a break will break you. Ensure that you're getting up every few hours, even if it's just to make a cup of tea. By taking a break you allow your brain and focus to reboot and (hopefully) ignite a new burst of energy.

From the Tzedekk team: Don't work if you're not focused. Rather take a 10 minute break and restart.

1. Have Boundaries

Number 1 on our list of Tzedekks' top 5 tips for working from home is to have boundaries. Much like your schedule, create boundaries on when you are and are not available, and let them be known. Implementing these from the get go will be hugely beneficial to your new life of working from home.

From the Tzedekk team: Definitely create boundaries.

And a bonus pointed out by one of our team members: Coffee every hour! At Tzedekk, working remotely has become somewhat of a draw card. Our entire team works remotely from all corners of the globe, bringing together different backgrounds, experiences and cultures. At Tzedekk we value working remotely, and have managed to create many successful marketing campaigns from the powers that remote working brings us.
